PROFILE

Jay Kularia is leading ANJ Group into its next phase of growth with a clear vision, entrepreneurial agility, and a deep respect for craftsmanship, precision, and integrity. As the next-generation leader of one of India's most trusted design and build firms, he is driving its transformation into a purpose-led, performance-driven organization.

Jay has scaled ANJ's presence across India and extended its reach into global markets. His leadership is marked by operational discipline, strategic expansion, and a sharp focus on building lasting client partnerships. Under his guidance, ANJ has delivered high-impact spaces for leading brands in the corporate, hospitality, and industrial sectors.

For Jay, sustainability is core to the business not an add-on. He has integrated ESG principles throughout the company's operations, from responsible sourcing and energy efficiency to waste reduction and digital-first project delivery ensuring ANJ builds with speed, intelligence, and accountability.
